Preserving history isn't just about dusty documents and old buildings—it's about people. It's about stories. It's about us. That's the heart of our Historical Society. For over 50 years, the Society has worked to protect historic sites, share community stories, and connect people through a shared appreciation of history.

When you become a member, you're not just signing up for a newsletter. You're joining a group of neighbors who believe that history is something we do together. Your membership supports events, education, and preservation efforts that promote an honest, respectful, and accessible record of our local history.
